Course Description: Autumn Flowering Arranging Classes

The ancient art of flower arranging, also known as floral design or floral art, involves putting flowers and plant materials together to create a pleasing and balanced display. It's much easier than you think, and beginners, especially those who have access to foliage and flowers in their own garden, don't need much money to get started.

- Come along and enjoy our Autumn flower arranging classes.
- On the first night you get to sit back and enjoy a demonstration of the arrangements we will be doing for the subsequent weeks.
- Each week you will get a list of items to get for the following week.
- Classes are fun and light hearted.
